

Hardy Relays 2012

Thank you all for coming to our event today. I hope you enjoyed it all, despite the complications arising from a few hitches (not least because the organiser went AWOL and took part) and vandalism. At least the weather was kind to us and we collected enough data to produce a set of results. Unfortunately the vandalism may have affected the results following removal of time taken to get to control 58 and up to the next control. Consequently in the senior course, the Orange course became the critical path and Wessex retained the Senior Trophy, and SARUM, the Vets Trophy. Trophies and sets of maps will be available at the NWO relay event next week.

Thanks are due to Roger for planning some interesting courses on a small area, and to Julie Astin for organising everything before today (the bits that worked).
